The Carmel Pine Cone

Editor's Column

Slowly, one by one, small discordances are creeping into the appearance of Carmel. Singly, none greatly destroys the character of the community but, collectively, they create a menace which, in future, could snowball and be a distinct detriment to the city.

During the past year, the city's long accepted policy of planting only native pines and oaks on city property has been disregarded. As a result, the street planting on Junipero above Ocean may eventually be a beautiful arboretum but it will never be true to the character of Carmel as are the thriving stands of pine on Junipero south of Ocean.

In other parts of town, for example the southwest corner of Thirteenth and San Carlos, young redwoods have been planted to replace pines and oaks which were removed to permit construction of a dwelling.

Furthermore, next week the forestry commission will distribute 500 Sierra redwood seedlings to Carmel residents in addition to 1,000 tiny pines.

So one by one, we can expect redwoods to invade the pine skyline of the city. This is regrettable.

Another small discordance is that section of Monte Verde south of Ocean which was resurfaced this year. It includes unsightly sidewalk development. There is only a slight slope in the continuous blacktop to demarcate the roadway from the walkway. Holes in this blacktop are the only provisions for landscaping this area. Formerly, sidewalk curbs have been constructed of wood or boulders and were a distinctive addition to the appearance of the town. Landscaping areas were more artistically handled. The thought that

ALLAN TEMKO

Allan Temko, above, world renowned analyst of architecture and urban affairs, from the University of California, Berkeley, will speak at Sunset Center auditorium on Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. His talk will be open to the public without charge as a public service of the Carmel Board of Realtors.

Members of the board, realizing their responsibilities for the development of their community, are bringing Mr. Temko here for the benefit of all persons interested in the preservation of the beauty and amenities of the coastal area. He will discuss some of the problems which this area will have to cope with in the face of coming tremendous growth and changes in our environment, according to George T. Conn, president of the Carmel Board of Realtors.

State Department Officials To Talk At Sunset Monday

Speakers from the U.S. State Department will be featured in the day-long program on foreign policy planned for Monday by the World Affairs Council and the League of Women Voters of the Monterey Peninsula.

In the evening, a general meeting, open to the public without charge, will be held at Sunset Center auditorium. During the day, the state department officials will appear at meetings of Peninsula service clubs and organizations, before school and college audiences, also other local groups, according to David Henry Gill, WAC president. A question and answer period will be held after each appearance of the state department officials.

Monday will be the first time a national series of state department community meetings on U.S. foreign policy will have been held in California.

Speakers coming here for the event are Edward W. Mulcahy, deputy director, Office of Eastern and Southern African Affairs; Daniel W. Montenegro, advisor on youth, labor and campesino affairs for the Bureau of Inter-American Affairs; and James H. Boren, special assistant to the U.S. Coordinator of the Alliance for Progress and director of the Partners of the Alliance.

John Everts Horner, director of the state department's office of public service, Bureau of Public Affairs, will act as chairman of the group of speakers.

According to Mr. Gill, the meetings on Monday are intended to bring together members of this community and senior Washington officials who are actually engaged in making and carrying out the foreign policy of the United States. It is hoped that better understanding of this country's foreign problems, policies and programs will be gained through Monday's series of meetings.

Tuesday Symphony Concert To Honor Conductors And Players

The second concert of the Monterey County Symphony's 20th anniversary season on Tuesday evening in Sunset Center auditorium will be dedicated to the conductors and instrumentalists whose talents and loyalty through the past two decades have made possible the symphony orchestra, the chamber orchestra and the youth orchestra of today.

Program innovations, on stage and in the audience, will be features of the gala program planned by Conductor John Gosling.

Guests will include Harold Bartlett, head of the Bartlett Music Company of Carmel, Modesto, Salinas and Santa Clara. Mr. Bartlett, Carmel High School's first instructor in music, was one of the infant orchestra's five conductors who alternated on the dais in 1940-41.

Lorell McCann, retired member of Hartnell College faculty where he headed the music department, is the orchestra's "star" member in terms of continuous service. He was the moving spirit of the small group in 1940. He alternated as conductor with Clifford Anderson, 1946 to 1954, then stepped from the podium to the first violin section. Currently a member of the viola section, Mr. McCann will once more conduct the symphony, when, at Mr. Gosling's request, he will mount the podium to conduct Purcell's "Trumpet Voluntary" at the Salinas concert.

Robert Nagler of Salinas has now retired to private teaching

HIGHLANDS INN PUBLIC HEARING

The Monterey County Planning Commission will conduct a public hearing on December 9, at 9:45 a.m., on a use permit for additional motel units at Highlands Inn. The request has been submitted by Robert Ramsey.

NEW IDEA FOR STREET LIGHTS

Carmel's assistant fire chief, James R. Belvail, who is also an electrical contractor, has an idea for lighting the streets in the business zone without using standards.

He proposes that lights be attached to buildings in the commercial district. This would require the approval of owners of the buildings and lights could be set at any height found desirable.

Council To See Gas Street Lamp Demonstration

Mayor Herbert Blanks has called a special meeting of the city council next week to witness a demonstration of gas street lights in operation. The meeting will be held on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. outside the city hall on Monte Verde Street.

This special meeting will precede the 8:00 p.m. December meeting of the council during which action will be taken on new street lights for the business district.

At last month's council meeting, final action on the installation of freeway-type standards, 30 feet in height, each with a 6,000 candle-power incandescent light on an overhanging arm, was delayed following a plea by a Carmel citizen, Carvel Baldwin, that the council consider gas lighting. He represented the Klenke Committee.

As of yesterday, ten letters had been written to the city council on the lighting matter. These were almost equally divided between proponents of electric lighting and advocates of gas lighting.

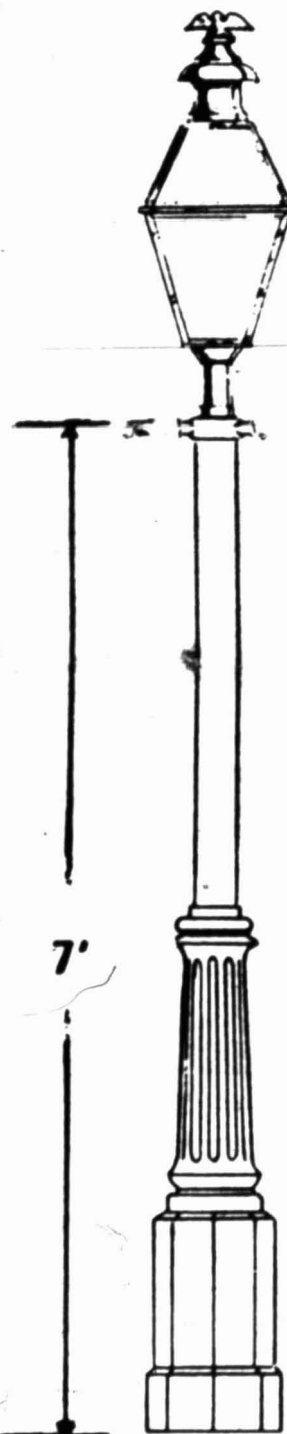

After last month's meeting, City Administrator Hugh Bayless obtained from the Pacific Gas and Electric Company comparative prices on the installation, maintenance and operation of both gas and electric lights.

A letter from Peter R. Darnton, P. G. & E. illuminating engineer, received by Mr. Bayless, states that gas and electric lighting are not comparable functionally.

"In our opinion, the electric system provides minimum adequate lighting for public safety and convenience; the gas lights do not," Mr. Darnton's letter says.

Taking the gas light illustrated on this page, which meets with the approval of Mr. Baldwin, but which the P. G. & E. recommends should have two additional lamps, Mr. Darnton gave the following cost

Above is the type of gas street light about which City Administrator Hugh Bayless obtained from the city council information from the P.G.&E. This lamp and standard is approved by the Klenke Committee which opposes the new 30-foot high freeway-type lights and standards approved by the council for the business district in October. Opposition from the committee caused the council to delay the installation of new lights on Dolores between Ocean and Seventh for one month.

The P.G.&E. analysis of gas lighting for the business district advised that three lamps, one on top and one at each side of the standard where small arms protrude, would be required to give sufficient light.

This type of light was used long before 1900 and is colonial in style. It is called the Philadelphia. According to Carvel Baldwin of the Klenke Committee, this light may be adapted to either gas or electricity and the standard can be any height desired.

The Dolores Street block where the new lights will go is the first unit of the underground electrical wiring project for the business zone. When completed, all electric service poles will have been eliminated.

HON. GERALD R. FORD

Representative Gerald D. Ford (R-Michigan), House Minority Leader, seen above, will be the speaker at a Congressional Dinner honoring Representative and Mrs. Burt L. Talcott on Sunday evening, 6:30 p.m., at the Mark Thomas Inn. A no-host reception at 5 p.m. will precede the buffet dinner.

The function is being sponsored by the Monterey County unit of the 12th District Congressional Committee and will be open to all persons, irrespective of party affiliation.

Sixty-Day Wait For Decision On Humble Oil Case

Judge Richard Harris of San Luis Obispo, following the four-hour superior court hearing last Thursday in Salinas on the petition for a referendum on the oil refinery at Moss Landing, announced that it would be at least 60 days before he rendered a decision on the matter.

William B. Burleigh, attorney for the Six Cities Fund, argued that members of the Monterey County Board of Supervisors acted in a legislative capacity when they granted a special permit for the refinery. County Counsel William Stoffers and Paul Hamerly, attorney for Humble Oil and Refining Company, contended that the supervisors took administrative action.

Should it be decided by Judge Harris that the granting of the refinery permit was legislative in nature, then the matter could be put to public vote providing ten percent of the county's registered voters so petition.

Such a petition with 12,572 signatures, many more than required, was submitted to the supervisors in September, and rejected.

At last week's hearing, the Six Cities Fund sought a decision permitting the petition to be presented to the supervisors, thus ensuring a referendum, or rescinding of the permit for the refinery.

Judge Harris presided at the hearing because two Monterey county superior court jurists, Judge Gordon Campbell of Carmel and Judge Stanley Lawson of Salinas, disqualified themselves. Judge Campbell said he had already made a decision on the refinery permit. Judge Lawson stated that he owned land in the vicinity of Moss Landing.

Mrs. Prosser

Private services for Mrs. Genevieve Corby Prosser, who died Sunday in a local hospital after a lengthy illness, were held Monday afternoon in the Paul Funeral Chapel, with the Reverend David Hill of All Saints' Episcopal Church officiating.

Mrs. Prosser, a native of Chicago, was a resident of Carmel for the past 18 years. With her husband, the late William Thornton Prosser, she formerly made her home in Seattle, Washington, where Mr. Prosser was a newspaper editor for many years. He later owned and managed an advertising agency until his retirement in 1947, when the couple moved to Carmel. Mr. Prosser died in 1949.

As long as her health permitted, Mrs. Prosser was an active member of the Women's Auxiliary of All Saints' Episcopal Church.

She is survived by her sisters-in-law, Mrs. Mildred Riker and Miss Mary Prosser of Carmel, and a niece, Mrs. James D. Niebel of Rancho Aguajito.

Inurnment took place in Cementerio El Encinal Columbarium. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Friends wishing to remember Mrs. Prosser may do so in the form of contributions to the Cobalt Therapy Unit, Community Hospital, Box HH, Carmel.

Theatre Flamenco Featuring Ciro For NAACP Benefit

Authentic Theatre Flamenco, featuring Ciro and his company, who were received with enthusiasm at their Sunset auditorium concert last June, will be presented at Monterey Peninsula College Music Hall on Sunday at 3 and 8 p.m. for the benefit of the Monterey Peninsula branch of NAACP.

Ciro, a versatile dramatic artist as well as a dancer-choreographer extraordinary, brings with him one of the best guitarists of Spain, Adonis Puertas. Born and educated in that country, the musician, at 18, took top honors against formidable competition. Puertas has played in many countries, including Mexico and South America, and was soloist with the famous Ballet Espanol. His was the background music for the movie "One Eyed Jacks," which starred Marlon Brando and was filmed largely on the Peninsula.

Ciro's troupe, including fiery Rosa Montoya, was applauded as the real "gitanos" of the New York stage show "Ole! Ole!"

Tickets for the benefit performances are available at The Guitar Shop in Carmel and at Plaza Linda Restaurant in Carmel Valley.

Peter Grote

Private graveside services for Peter Harry Grote, a resident of Carmel for the past four years, were held yesterday morning in El Carmelo Cemetery, with the Reverend Burkert Cree of the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula officiating. Mr. Grote, who made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Ted (Marie) Fehring, died in a local nursing home Tuesday after a period of failing health.

He was a native of Denver, Colorado, where he was born September 30, 1881. A life member of the Long Beach Elks Club, Mr. Grote also belonged to Vancouver Lodge, F&AM, Vancouver, British Columbia. He was a retired funeral director.

In addition to Mrs. Fehring, he leaves another daughter, Mrs. Eachren Fuller of Silver Springs, Maryland; a son, Earl Grote of Inglewood; a sister, Mrs. Millie Geleng of Reseda; and eight grandchildren.

Friends wishing to honor Mr. Grote through memorial contributions may do so to the charities of their choice.

The Mission Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

A Bride For Paul Fratessa

Bowls of white chrysanthemums were interspersed with arrangements of white gladioli in St. Vincent de Paul's Church in San Francisco for the Saturday wedding of Mary Jo Schneble of San Francisco to Paul Francis Fratessa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bertram Fratessa of Carmel. The noon nuptial mass, at which the couple received a Papal blessing from Pope Paul VI, was conducted by the Reverend John Duryea, chaplain of the Newman Club at Stanford and a personal friend of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, Robert Martin Schneble of Rockton, Illinois, the bride wore a gown of white peau de sole styled with a Venetian lace front panel and a cathedral train. A small crown held her bouffant veil to her hair and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Paula Schneble was her sister's maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Maxine Blake and Peggy Ryan of San Francisco. They wore identical, full-length dresses of white crepe, with small white veils on their hair, and carried bouquets of deep red roses with red velvet streamers. Sue Ellen Schneble, Paula's youngest sister, was flower girl.

Paul asked his brother-in-law, Timothy Crow of San Francisco, to be his best man. Another brother-in-law, Jefferson Scoville of Newport Beach, was an usher, as were Loring Wylie and Philip Fleming. Thomas Scoville, nephew of the bridegroom, served as ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Schneble chose a rose silk dress with a brocade coat of matching color. Her feathered hat was also of a rose hue.

Mrs. Fratessa was attired in a green silk jacket dress and matching shoes, with which she wore bone accessories.

At the reception following the ceremony, the newlyweds cut a wedding cake upon which were the same tiny bride-and-groom figures that had been used to decorate the bride's parents' cake at the time of their marriage.

In addition to her maid of honor and flower girl, the new Mrs. Fratessa, a graduate of Marquette University, has two other sisters, Deborah and Frances Schneble of Rockton, Illinois, and a brother, Martin Schneble.

Paul earned his B. S. degree in civil engineering from San Jose State College, previously having attended Carmel schools, Bellarmine Preparatory and the University of San Francisco. He is associated with a structural engineering firm in San Francisco, where the couple will make their home after a honeymoon in Hawaii. His sisters are Mrs. Timothy Crow of San Francisco, Mrs. Jefferson Scoville of Newport Beach and Carolyn Fratessa.

Reception For Chairman

Over 100 leading Democrats from Monterey County met Robert Coate, new chairman of the State Democratic Central Committee, at a reception Tuesday evening at the home of State Senator Fred Farr in Carmel.

Mr. Coate told the gathering that Democrats face a truly strong contest in the 1966 elections. He urged faithful support of all Democratic Party candidates next year, especially Governor Edmund G. Brown who, Mr. Coate stated, will be a candidate for re-election.

"He's a winner in the biggest political league," stressed the new state chairman. He pointed out that Governor Brown has defeated two strong Republicans in the past, Richard Nixon and William Knowland.

Donnan And Lee Are Home

After a long stay in Ireland, Donnan and Lee Jeffers are back again in Tor House on Carmel Point, to the delight of the many friends who have missed them. Upon their arrival Tuesday afternoon, the children, Una, Robin and Donnan Jr., were excitedly redis-covering their home in the company of Bluebell, the Irish whippet which crossed the sea with them.

A pleasant surprise for them was to find the larder stocked with their favorite delicacies by Bertrand and Jane Ellen d'Avenas, who also met them at the boat in San Francisco and drove them to Carmel. Other friends contributed in many ways to their homecoming.

In Los Angeles, where the ship stopped for several days en route to San Francisco, the Jefferses' son Lindsay, a student at Occidental College, joined them aboard for Thanksgiving.

Now They Know

For some time, Lieutenant Commander Norman S. Bull and his wife, who had never even seen Carmel until recently, have been reading the Pine Cone from cover to cover at their Yokohama residence. Their vicarious attachment to Carmel led to a renewal of the original subscription, a gift from friends. Now, after three years in Japan, Commander Bull has been assigned to the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School, the couple has found a house in Pebble Beach and are probably the most at-home newcomers ever to arrive in this area.

The sense of familiarity also extends to their children, Cynthia, nine, and Paul, 12. Cynthia, however, according to her mother, often refers to Japan as "home," for she was born in that country on a previous trip of the Bulls.

DeMartinis Will Entertain

Following the concert of the Monterey County Symphony next week, Mr. and Mrs. Walter DeMartini will entertain at their hospitable Carmel Highlands home for a number of the participants and symphony-goers. Soprano Alma Bonner, soloist for the Tuesday evening concert, will be an honored guest. The singer and her husband, Harold Bonner, will also be houseguests at the De Martini home.

Others invited include former symphony directors, Harold Bartlett, Lorell McCann, Clifford Anderson, Robert Nagler, Keith McKillopp and Franklin Young, and their wives; director John Gosling and Mrs. Gosling, Mr. and Mrs. John Farr, Miss Angie Machado, Mr. and Mrs. Alastair MacKay, Mrs. Marie B. Sale, James M. R. Glaser Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dahl and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Klene.

Harriet Duncan Is Mrs. Eyre

A lovely new home in the upper Riviera of Carmel Highlands was awaiting Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon Eyre, the former Harriet Duncan, when they returned to the Peninsula on Sunday following their marriage in Seattle on November 23. The happy couple enjoyed a brief wedding trip before resuming direction this week of their respective businesses. The new Mrs. Eyre is the owner of the Harriet Duncan shop and her husband is a well-known certified public accountant with offices in Monterey.

Shop flew a huge paper fish on November 10 to celebrate the birth of their grandson, Alexander Frederick Hubbard, who is the first child for Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hubbard of Carmel. Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Hubbard of Freedom are the baby's paternal grandparents.

Year-and-a-half-old Pamela Jean Marquard is delighted with her new baby brother, Michael Dean, the first son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton A. Marquard Jr. of Carmel Valley, whose birthday was November 15. Michael is the grandson of Mrs. Tim Morrow of Maui, Milton Marquard Sr. of Oakland, and Mr. and Mrs. Beach Dean of Orinda.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Stimson of Carmel Valley became parents of a girl, Monique Lynn, on November 11.

It was also a girl for Mr. and Mrs. Saul Heffes of Carmel, whose daughter, Michele, arrived on November 15.

New Year's In November

Pacheco Club members and their wives enjoyed the club's fourth annual "New Year's Eve in November" party on Saturday evening, taking over the lanai room of Mark Thomas Outrigger for cocktails, dinner and dancing.

Party accent for the black tie gala was Polynesian, beginning with a buffet featuring whole suckling pig, Kamehameha style, and delicious puu-puus, such as Hawaiian honey loin ribs. This was followed by a champagne dinner of chicken Telana, served with fresh pineapple and exotic sauces.

The orchestra played for dancing into the small hours for the convivial crowd which dedicated the evening to an early "Happy New Year."

Holly Ball Next Week

The annual Holly Ball sponsored by the Children's Home Society, always a popular event of the winter social season, will be held on December 11 at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club. Members and their guests, in formal evening attire, will dine at 8:30 p.m., later dance to the music of Jake Stock's orchestra.

During the evening, a drawing will be held to determine the winner of an oil portrait to be painted by artist Nancy Miller. Sponsor for this portrait drawing is the Winnie-the-Pooh Chapter. Tickets are offered at $1 each, with all proceeds going to the Children's Home Society.

Bids for the Holly Ball are now available to the active and associate members. For information associates may call Mrs. Bruce Matson (624-1759) and actives may call Mrs. William Kennedy (375-2820).

Mrs. Bruce Matson, Littlebits chapter, is general chairman for the Holly Ball. Other chairmen are Mrs. William Kennedy, Punch and Judy chapter, reservations; Mrs. Dee Robertson, Mother Goose chapter, decorations; Mrs. Max Mobley, Winnie-the-Pooh chapter, publicity.

Letters To The Editor . . .

Carmel Pine Cone

Carmel doesn't need, or want, bright lights in its business district.

There will be no such thing as "attractive landscaping" to effectively hide 30-foot poles.

We must have a strong expression from our citizens to stop this so-called modernization program.

This decision comes up at the next city council meeting (December 8) and a "yes" vote will mean the further erosion of our remaining village charm.

It is to be hoped that our townspeople will phone their favorite councilman, or, write or phone city hall and express themselves on this question.

Yours sincerely,
Wallace E. Doolittle

Carmel Pine Cone

I have just returned from a walk around Carmel Point. It is perfectly beautiful and the water in Carmel Bay is the loveliest I have ever seen it, the reason being that all the kelp has washed up onto the beach. The beach resembles that in Ensenada the last time I saw it, and that is no compliment.

I would like to suggest that one of these days when the kelp is all on the beach, some trucks go down and load it up and cart it off to the dump where it belongs. If lack of money interferes with a project of this kind, I am sure many residents of this area would be glad to donate $5 or $10 apiece to help beautify our beach and bay.

While I am sounding off, I would like to refer to a proposal made last summer to do away with the crosswalks and benches in the center strip of Ocean Avenue. I am against this because these crosswalks are distinguishing features of Carmel. Furthermore, one day last summer when my husband and I were strolling along Ocean Avenue people-watching we saw some young people sitting on these benches, singing and playing guitars. We remarked on how nice this was and that there should be more places for this type of activity. I realize this is unpopular with many people, but singing and playing guitars are harmless pastimes and lend life to the town which could become quite dead without the young people to liven it up.

Very truly yours,
(Mrs. John E. Lambert)

Ed. Note

This same letter has been sent by Mrs. Lambert to the city council.

For a long time the members of the Carmel Board of Realtors, realizing their responsibilities for the development of their community, have wanted to do something which would be of benefit to all persons interested in the preservation of the beauty and amenities of the whole central coast area.

With this in mind, the Carmel

Board of Realtors has invited Dr. Allan Temko to speak at Sunset auditorium on December 8 at 8 p.m. He will discuss some of the problems with which our area will have to cope in the face of the coming tremendous growth and changes in our environment.

Dr. Temko received his doctorate at Columbia University and is currently a member of the Center for Planning and Development at the University of California at Berkeley, also a member of the faculty there. He is doing a study for the Twentieth Century Fund on all the factors involved in industrial urban development. He serves as the architectural editor for the S.F. Chronicle.

We are, therefore, inviting all persons whose professions or interests are related to wise use of land and the preservation and enhancement of the amenities of our area. All expenses are being met by the Carmel Board of Realtors as a service to the public and there will be no admission charge.

Sincerely yours,
George T. Conn, President
Carmel Board of Realtors

Mr. Litchfield

Private services have been held in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove, for Benedict Oakley Litchfield, who died in a Peninsula hospital November 24 after a period of failing health.

Born in Brooklyn, New York, September 19, 1878, he was a resident of Carmel for the past seven years.

Before coming to Carmel, Mr. Litchfield was chief guard for Union Industries of Stamford, Connecticut. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church of Brooklyn.

He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Litchfield, Waterbury of Lyme Center, New Hampshire, and six grandchildren; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Louise M. Demarest, and a nephew, Frank Demarest, both of Carmel. His wife, the late Florence Demarest Litchfield, died in October, 1958.

Interment will take place in St. Petersburg Beach, Florida. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Red Cross Lists More Gifts For Viet Nam Troops

A supplementary list of personal and recreation gifts acceptable for American military personnel in Viet Nam has been released by the National Red Cross, after being cleared through the military. In addition to such equipment as tape recorders, cameras, and so on in the previously released list, the following will now be accepted at Red Cross chapters for overseas distribution: commercial games such as Monopoly, Scrabble and darts; playing cards, regular and pinochle; self-contained handcraft sets such as "painting by numbers"; stationery with self-seal envelopes, and individual sewing kits.

The Red Cross again stresses that all these items must be new; used material cannot be shipped. Such gifts as 8 mm movie projectors, 35 mm slide projectors and hand viewers, as well as musical instruments, tape recorders, and record players, it has been suggested, make good "projects" for a group donation.

Musical Comedy Opens At MPC Tomorrow Night

"Best Foot Forward," a musical comedy by John Cecil Holm, will open tomorrow in the Monterey Peninsula College Little Theater.

Telling the lighthearted story of trouble at Winsocki Prep when Bud Hooper, played by Frank Wang, invites two girls to the same school dance, the former Broadway hit moves with the swift pace of a George Abbott show. "Buckle Down, Winsocki" is one of its more memorable tunes.

Morgan Stock has directed a large student cast featuring Nick Hovick, Douglas A. Foltz, Louann Brown, Christine Jacques, Susan Scott, Richard Gardner, Georgeanne Demarest and Cassy Finch in the leading roles.

After the opening, "Best Foot Forward" will be presented again on Saturday, also December 8 through 11. Curtain time each evening is 8:30 o'clock. Tickets—$1 for adults, 50 cents for students—may be purchased at the theater door.

Party Plans

By Phyllis Jervey

As a "recuerdo" of the adventurous trip 30 lucky Peninsulites recently made to Peru, we've planned a Peruvian dinner and we will use only locally available products. A famous dish of Peru is Arroz con Pato (duck with rice) imaginatively prepared in the Lima manner.

PERUVIAN DINNER PARTY

Pisco Sour
 Senoritas . . . Small Corn Cobs
 Seviche . . . Consomme
 Arroz con Pato Lima
 Green Beans Parmesano
 Escarole Salad
 Caramel Custard . . . Fruit Compote
 Coffee Wines

Pisco Sour are the official libation of Peru and are hard to come by on our shores. They are made from a native grape brandy, so nothing daunted, let's go in pursuit of the pisco. We've found that a light California grape brandy will do nicely. For three drinks, use 6 jiggers of Pisco or California grape brandy, 1 jigger honey, 3 tbsps. fresh lemon or lime juice and an egg white with cracked ice. Shake well in cocktail shaker until foamy. Top each long tall drink with a dash of bitters. Viva Pisco!

Senoritas are aptly named as they are sweet young sea scallops broiled with a lemon-butter sauce, sprinkled with salt, pepper and paprika. Use defrosted frozen ones if the fresh are unavailable. Spear with cocktail picks for easily handled appetizers. Do the same with the smallest possible ears of corn, boiled and buttered. Or cut small ears of corn into one-inch pieces. In Peru they use green corn.

Seviche is a raw fish delicacy much relished by Latinos. White meat fish fillets are marinated in a pickling sauce overnight, or longer, and kept refrigerated. The skins and bones are removed and the fish is cut into julienne strips. The sauce is made from white wine, lemon or lime juice, thinly sliced onions, salt and vinegar. Add a soupcon of ground chili peppers and eat the fish, drained, on melba toast as an unusual hors d'oeuvre for us, but quite the rage with Peruvians.

Serve hot consomme in cups in the living room or in soup dishes at the dining table. Garnish with shredded green onions and slices of lemon sprinkled with paprika.

ARROZ CON PATO LIMA

One domestic duck (6 to 8 lbs.); ½ cup (¼ lb.) butter; 3 sprigs fresh mint, chopped; 2 onions, chopped; 6 peppercorns; ¼ tsp. black pepper; 1 tbsp. cumin seed; 3 tbsps. shelled sunflower seeds, ground; 3 cloves garlic, ground; 1 tbsp. salt; 2 cups (1 lb.) white long grained rice; 6 cups water or more; 1 tsp. fresh or dry marjoram, minced; 1 tsp. powdered chili pepper; 2 tbsps. brandy.

Use duck which is not too fat. Clean and wash and cut into 10 pieces. In Dutch oven, heat butter, add mint, onion, peppercorns, pepper and cumin seed. Mix sunflower seed with garlic. Add this to mixture in pot and fry. Put in duck pieces and brown on all sides. Add half the salt and half the water, cover tightly and simmer 45 min. Wash rice 4 times. Drain and put around duck in pot. Add remaining salt and water over all; cover tightly and cook gently until duck and rice are tender. Now add marjoram mixed with chili pepper. Add brandy, mixing with fork into rice. Rice should be soft but grains separated. Serve very hot. Place duck in center of hot platter and surround with rice. Natives use an herb called huacatay instead of marjoram and a beverage, chichi, instead of brandy.

As the Carmel friend did not give us measurements when she told us about her favorite menu while in Lima, we have used an authentic recipe from the "World Wide Cook Book."

The green beans are whole ones (not frenched), cooked until tender, drained and covered with a white sauce in which freshly grated Parmesan cheese has been dissolved. This is a special way they prepare vegetables in Peru. They call it Milanese and whole baby carrots are also cooked this way. The crisp green salad is lightly dressed from olive oil and wine vinegar cruets, salt and pepper at the table.

CARAMEL CUSTARD

(Serves 6)

Two cups heavy cream; 5 eggs; 5 tbsps. granulated sugar; ¼ tsp. vanilla extract; 1 cup sifted light brown sugar.

Heat cream in top of double boiler over hot water until film forms over surface. In bowl, beat eggs, granulated sugar and vanilla. Slowly add hot cream, beating well. Return mixture to top of double boiler; cook over simmering water. Stir constantly until it coats a metal spoon. Don't overcook or it will curdle. Pour into 6 custard cups. Cool slightly, then refrigerate about 8 hours. Before serving, sprinkle brown sugar over tops and put under broiler until sugar bubbles. Serve cool. This is known as flan in Spanish and is "magnifico" topped with stewed fruit. A dinner party to remember with delight, even though we stay-at-homes haven't lately ventured out of Monterey County!

Noted Semanticist To Lecture At MPC Tomorrow Evening

Dr. Samuel I. Hayakawa, the noted semanticist who has lectured to enthusiastic audiences twice in recent years at Monterey Peninsula College, will make his third MPC appearance tomorrow.

The founder and editor of the periodical, "ETC.: A Review of General Semantics," will speak on "Problems of Self-Concept in Minority Groups" at 8 p.m. in the Armory. He will be the third lecturer in the college's "Roots of Prejudice" series.

Now a professor of English at San Francisco State College, Dr. Hayakawa has also taught at the University of Wisconsin, Illinois Institute of Technology and the University of Chicago. He has held summer and visiting professorships at the University of Denver, University of Kansas City, Columbia University, Notre Dame University, University of Hawaii and San Jose State College.

Dr. Hayakawa had originally been scheduled to speak at MPC December 10, but he was invited by the Air Force to take part in a U.S.-sponsored program in Japan that week and asked Dr. Keith Merrill, MPC evening dean, if it would be possible to speak here a week earlier. "We could not resist him," Dr. Merrill said. "It turned out that it would also be his first opportunity in 12 years to see his parents, who live in Japan."

Del Monte Kennel Club Winter Match

Plans for the forthcoming Del Monte Kennel Club winter all-breed match have been announced by Dr. William Crawford, chairman. The event, which is sanctioned by the American Kennel Club, will be held on Sunday at the Monterey County Fairgrounds.

The match, an annual affair, differs from those of previous years by including for the first time "junior dogs"—those which are 12 to 24 months old—as well as the usual 3 to 12 month old puppies, all-age obedience and junior showmanship classes.

An outstanding slate of judges will be present, among them O. Carley Harriman of Pebble Beach, who is one of the few all-breed AKC licensed judges in the country. Mr. Harriman will be judging best in match for "junior dogs." Best in match for puppies will be judged by Lt. Col. A. K. Arima of Carmel.

There will be no admission charge for spectators at the match. Exhibitors may enter their dogs by mail or at the handling classes for a fee of $2.00. Entries will also be taken on the day of the match between 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. Judging will begin at 12:30 p.m.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel 624-3881.

INTERNATIONAL FESTIVAL AT MPC SATURDAY

Monterey Peninsula College's international festival, an annual project of the International Relations Club, has been scheduled for Saturday 7 to 10 p.m. in the MPC Music Hall.

The event, staged as a scholarship benefit, will feature colorfully costumed foreign students in songs, dances and instrumental music from the many countries they represent.

Farhad Saba of Iran will act as master of ceremonies. He and Sterling Cale are co-chairmen and directors for the festival, assisted by George Nicolayev.

How much should a funeral cost?

The simple answer is—never more than you can afford. Can the love of a family ever be measured in dollars and cents? Many people do, however, overspend, because of the pressure and confusion of the moment. Your inquiry as to costs in advance of need is good insurance against overspending. ## Shakespearean Team To Perform Monday For Woman's Club

"All the World's a Stage" is the title of the program to be presented by the husband and wife team of Jack Aranson and Mary Rose McMaster at the Carmel Woman's Club at 2 p.m. on Monday.

Each artist has an extensive theatrical background and both have been associated with the Dublin Theatre Festival in Ireland. Mr. Aranson, who trained with the London Old Vic Theatre for two years, has worked with such talented actors as Siobhan McKenna and Orson Wells. He is currently appearing with his company at The City Theatre, San Francisco's newest drama hall.

Mary Rose McMaster made her debut at the Abbey Theatre at the tender age of two, in the arms of Mrs. Patrick Campbell, and later became a member of her father's Shakespearean touring company.

Mrs. Dudley Miles, hospitality chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. J. C. Hale, Mrs. Paul K. Theobald, Mrs. D. W. Hunsacker, Mrs. Willard Ladd and Mrs. Alexander Daly.

Mrs. Wallace Lowery, Mrs. A. F. Svantesson, Mrs. James Dixon and Mrs. Carl Rasmussen will preside at the tea tables following the general meeting.

Young Coloratura To Give Concert On Sunday Evening

Diana Draper, talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Draper of Sacramento, will be presented in concert Sunday at the Pacific Grove Junior High School auditorium. The 8 p.m. concert will be the first in this area for this gifted coloratura soprano. Miss Draper may be remembered here, however, for she appeared in summer stock at White Oaks Theatre in Carmel Valley.

Many awards have been presented this young artist. Among them are the Bank of America award of music and fine arts, honor thespian in the National Thespian Society and Sacramento State College speech award. She has been a guest artist with the Sacramento Symphony and was elected "Teen of the Week" while in school at Sacramento State College. She is a member of the Alessa Sharree Playhouse in Sacramento.

Miss Draper is the youngest person to have been presented in concert in Sacramento. She also plays the piano and is the organist of her church.

Some of the selections chosen by Miss Draper for her concert include "Quando Men Vo," "Il Bacio," "O Mio Bambino Caro," "Mora," and a tribute to the late Jeanette McDonald.

Tickets for the gala evening may be obtained at the Central Box Office in Carmel and at the door on the evening of her concert. Admission is $2.00.

exchange of gifts among members. Guest speaker for the special meeting will be Gilbert Schoenbrod, whose topic will be religious art.

The members are to receive communion in a body on Sunday at the 8 a.m. mass.

In the absence of Mrs. Kenneth White, president, who is touring in Europe, Mrs. F. J. Sparolini presided at the society's November meeting. The Reverend Roger J. Dieudonne told of the recent visit to the Mission Basilica of Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon.

Guest speaker Mrs. Alvin Ferrera gave an interesting talk, illustrated with slides, about the events of her recent four-months tour of Africa and elaborated on her visit with the late Dr. Albert Schweitzer.

Also during the November meeting, members took up a collection for the annual Thanksgiving gift for the benefit of the Carmelite nuns.

A Unique European Lecture Tour Offered MPC District Residents

A three-week European "lecture tour" will be offered residents of the Monterey Peninsula Junior College District next summer in cooperation with 17 other northern California colleges, Dr. Keith Merrill, MPC evening dean, has announced.

Arrangements are being made for the trip to start in San Francisco July 11 and cover Paris, London, Rome, Berlin and Copenhagen. In each city, tour members will meet and hear lectures by "some of those men and women who are not available on lecture platforms in the United States."

Among the names mentioned in the itinerary are Andre Malraux, Gabriel Marcel, Romain Gary, Arnold Toynbee, Julian Huxley, Charles Percy Snow, Alberto Moravia, Giorgio Bassani, His Holiness Pope Paul VI and Gunnar Myrdal.

Cost of the round trip will be $1,350 for double room hotel accommodations, or $1,500 for single room accommodations. The price includes round trip jet air transportation, breakfast and a choice of either lunch or dinner "so that participants may make their own choice of one restaurant each day."

Further information may be obtained by writing to the College Association for Public Events and Services (CAPES) at Cabrillo College, 6500 Soquel Avenue, Aptos, California.

Though she didn't know it, the Christians had watched the Oronsay pass the Farallones and enter the Golden Gate from their home high on a San Francisco hill. Thus, Karen Christian was able to time to perfection the delayed Thanksgiving dinner party which officially welcomed home the traveler.

Visitor From Newhall

Mrs. Fred W. Trueblood arrived last week from Newhall for a visit with her son, Richard, better known as "Gus." With mother in the kitchen, Gus' diet has been blasted to smithereens—moderation is impossible when a loving, gourmet cook loads the table with one's favorite dishes.

For Thanksgiving, Gus' requested feast of rare roast beef and Yorkshire pudding was postponed in favor of sharing a more conventional dinner with their neighbor, Mrs. Helen Martin, who also invited Mrs. Cynthia Manning and her daughter, Donna, for turkey.

Mrs. Trueblood, who loves her visits to Carmel, is returning to Southern California on Saturday.

The Macys Had Guests

Houseguests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Macy for a fortnight have been two young tourists from the British Isles, Lady Lavinia Brabazon, daughter of the Earl and Countess of Neath of Ireland, and her friend, Miss Priscilla Incledon-Webber of London. The travelers left for Mexico after a real American Thanksgiving with the Macys and their sons, Carleton and Clinton. Carleton was home for the holidays from the University of Redlands, where he is in his senior year, and his brother from the University of Oregon, where he is a freshman.

Caldwells In Mallorca

With the arrival of winter in Europe, Lieutenant Colonel John C. Caldwell (USA ret.) and Mrs. Caldwell have left Salzburg, Austria, for the balmy Mediterranean and are enjoying looking out over the sea from the balcony of their hotel room in Palma de Mallorca. The Caldwells expect to remain in beautiful Palma until April.

En route from Salzburg, they had a wonderful drive through Switzerland, northern Italy and southern France and spent three weeks with friends at the small town of Cap d'Ail, near Monte Carlo, which enabled them to really see the French Riviera.

Full House At Nietos

The festive table at the August Nietos last Thursday included children and grandchildren. Mrs. Michael (Margaret) Philbin came from San Jose with her sons, Kevin and John, and Katherine and Bill McCormack of Pacific Grove were there with their daughters, Elizabeth and baby Jennifer.

Daughters Visited Champs

Last week's holiday brought welcome visitors to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Champe. A daughter and son-in-law, Tweed and Robert Evans, drove up from Westminster in Southern California to be with them. Their other daughter, Leslie (Mrs. William Talbot), flew out from Provo, Utah, with little Traci Talbot, who is keeping grandmother busy until Saturday.

ELECTRICITY OFF

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company has notified its users along the Sur Coast that the electric current will be off on the dates of December 1, 2 and 3 during daytime hours. This temporary suspension of service is necessary to repair and "coat" the insulators along the area from Yankee Point to Granite Creek, the extensive repairs necessitated by the increased use of electricity in the coastal areas.

A "PERSONALIZED" PROPERTY reflecting the good taste of the owner, the talent of the architect and the skill of the builder, this quality home is a fine example of a contemporary rustic residence. Truly a "sun-trap" with its southeast exposure, the floor plan provides access to an enormous deck from the bedroom, livingroom and dining-area. Completely walled for privacy and landscaped for minimum maintenance, the exterior and interior feature a driftwood finish. ## Council To See Gas Lamp Demonstration estimates on both gas and electric lights for Dolores Street between Ocean Avenue and Seventh Avenue where underground electrical service has been installed.

GAS LIGHTS

These figures are quoted on the freeway-type lights and standards approved by the council on October 6.

Editor's Column . . .

more and more street construction such as that on Monte Verde may occur is horrifying.

Also, this week and last, some of the crosswalks in the Ocean Avenue center strip have been eliminated. The wooden benches are being removed from those that remain. These benches were originally constructed so that citizens might, on occasion, rest and chat. Nowadays, the crosswalks may be a traffic and police hazard, but, with each removed crosswalk and bench, a little bit of the charm of Carmel disappeared. This is sad.

Trees have tended, through the years, to screen unsightly utility poles in the residence zone. However, the cutting of more and more trees to permit more and more construction has allowed these poles to obtrude. Now there is the possibility that new and bigger poles, such as those which outraged Seaside, may invade Carmel. This is frightening.

Lastly, there is the controversial matter of new street lights in the business zone. Opposition from citizens caused the city council to delay for a month installation of the freeway-type light standards the council chose.

Next week, the council will see a demonstration of gas lights with appropriate standards. But whatever type of lighting is finally installed in sidewalk areas there is the danger that trees will no

ALL CONFERENCE FOOTBALL PLAYERS

Doug Adams of Carmel High School has a place on both the defensive and offensive squads of the Mission Trails Athletic League All-Conference Team.

Dave Marvin of Carmel High received an honorable mention position on the defensive team.

Doug, a CHS junior, is six feet, two inches tall and weighs 206 pounds. He is named as a linebacker on the defensive squad and a lineman on the offensive.

The all-conference team selections were made at a meeting of MTAL coaches on November 22.

longer serve as screening. The underground electrical service, plus sewer, gas and water mains, leave no room for the roots of trees. Last month the city forester told the council that in the block on Dolores, where the new lights will first be placed, sidewalk planting boxes may be the only solution to this problem. Unless aesthetically handled the boxes will be unpleasant additions.

The above are just a few of the discordances which could snowball. There are others. Each, to long time residents, is like a nail in the coffin of the character of Carmel which they have striven to keep alive over the years.

The majority of Carmel residents, in the past, was dedicated to preserving the beauty of the town; keeping it different; creating a distinctive community character. Now these persons appear to be the minority and their plaint is . . . doesn't anyone but us care anymore? M.L.

Salvation Army's Red Kettle Returns

After more than 20 years, the red kettle of the Salvation Army will be seen in Carmel. The familiar Christmas receptacle will be placed at the northeast corner of Ocean and Dolores for donations to aid the Salvation Army with its Christmas activities which are only supported from kettle collections.

The Salvation Army has reopened Peninsula offices which are located at 543 Lighthouse Avenue, Monterey. Captain Al Van Cleef, commanding officer, states that this year the Salvation Army will be receiving Christmas assistance applications for food orders.

At this time of year, too, the Salvation Army will take gifts to shut-ins, rest homes and hospitals.

The purpose of the kettle and other activities is to make the Christmas season one that people will remember, not as a time of loneliness, hunger or sadness, but rather as an occasion of joy and peace with the feeling of being cared about, Captain Van Cleef stresses.

Symphony Concert To Honor Conductors And Players

hosts of Carmel friends, many of whom attended the 1947 to 1954 symphony concerts when he alternated on the podium with Lorell McCann. Mr. Anderson recently returned from Djakarta, Indonesia, where, as a member of the U.S. cultural exchange program, he conducted the native Indonesian Symphony Orchestra.

A special bow from Mr. Gosling will be tendered Carmel's John Farr, currently personnel manager of the orchestra. Throughout the symphony's life Mr. Farr has been unfaltering in his contributions of talent, time and effort. Head of music for the Carmel Unified School District, John Farr is, states Conductor Gosling, "Symphony's indispensable."

Soprano Alma Bonner, widely acclaimed from coast to coast for her performances, on the concert platform, on radio and in opera, will be the evening's soloist. Miss Bonner will be heard in two groups of songs. A west coast premiere will be Serge de Gastyne's "Bouquet d'Algues, Op. 31," dedicated by the composer to Mrs. John F. Kennedy; and "Four Last Songs" by Strauss.

Post-concert parties, honoring the soloist and the early conductors and instrumentalists will be held in both Carmel and Salinas.
